

How A Bill Becomes A Law in Texas

Bill is introduced in the

HOUSE

Led by House Speaker

Bill is referred to a House Committee by the Speaker, where it may be amended.

If the bill passes through the committee, it goes to calendars committee for scheduling for House floor debate.

Bill is brought to the House floor for debate where it may be further amended.

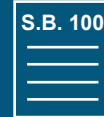

If passed by majority vote, the bill is sent to the Senate.

Bill is introduced in the

SENATE

Led by Lt. Governor

Bill is referred to a Senate Committee by the Lt. Gov., where it may be amended.

If the bill passes through the committee, Senators must agree by 5/9 vote to send the bill to the Senate floor for debate.

Bill is brought to the Senate floor for debate where it may be further amended.

If passed by majority vote, the bill is sent to the House.

ALL BILLS
MUST PASS THROUGH THE SENATE &
THE HOUSE
TO BECOME LAW

Once a bill with agreed upon language is passed by the House and Senate, the bill is sent to the Governor.

The Governor may:

1. Sign the bill into law;
2. Allow the bill to become law without his signature; or
3. Veto the bill (A veto can be overridden if the bill received a 2/3's vote in the House and Senate).
